

showing off

January 2012

sherry

We are sherry.

Visual communication and brand development is what we do.

The 4 areas we work in are:

- brand identity creation and development
- design for print; brochures, annual reviews, reports, information design
- campaign identity creation and development
- digital design and programming.

Job role: Junior Designer

Sherry is a creative design agency based in the Old Street area of EC1. Visual communication and brand development is what we do both on and offline. We pride ourselves on our creativity and our ability to always find the answer.

This is the level of work we deliver to our clients:

To keep things interesting we work for lots of different clients from many different sectors music, sport, science, transport, live events and entertainment are just some. We're looking for a talented designer with a genuine love for all things creative. You'll need to be full of ideas, highly motivated with excellent attention to detail and want to work as part of a team. You'll want to work in a studio with room to grow.

You'll also need:

- to be brimming with ideas and creativity,
- to manage your time and steer projects within tight deadlines,
- to assist in all areas of keeping the the studio running smoothly,
- an awareness of design trends and digital innovations,
- an understanding of flash and XHTML would be preferable.

If this is you then send your CV and work examples to ellie@sherrydesign.co.uk
The salary for this position is 18K per annum.

